Meet the New Guys!

During Convention, 2 new Directors were voted onto the Board of Directors. In case you missed it, here they are:

Luke Morris was commissioned as a civil law notary public in February 2008 at the age of 19. He has been an active member of the Louisiana Notary Association for 5 years. Throughout his membership, he has contributed to the LNA's Notary Survival Kit, Signed & Sealed, Notary2Notary, and has worked alongside the Board of Directors with new legislation affecting notaries. He graduated in Accounting in 2010 from Southeastern LA University with summa cum laude honors. After graduation, he continued his education at LSU Law School where he recently graduated in May 2013. He is employed as a tax staff accountant with Postlethwaite & Netterville, which is the same firm that provides management services to the LNA.

Bryan Melancon is a native and resident of Gonzales where he serves as District 10 Councilman for the Ascension Parish Council. He was commissioned as a Louisiana Notary Public in Ascension Parish with statewide jurisdiction in August, 2012. He became an LNA and National Notary Association Certified Signing Agent in October, 2012 and operates his mobile notary business after hours and on weekends. He is very passionate about the need for all notaries to consistently sharpen their skills with continuing education and to be completely up to date with new laws that affect this noble profession. Bryan is currently the Systemwide Manager of Installation, Service, and Technology for Pelican Security Services, LLC and is also a vital part of the Mergers and Acquisitions team for the company.
